COLUMBUS — The Scholar
As son of a wool comber,
he received a good education
with work at the University of Pavia.

Dedication:

In appreciation of

 Their years of faithful teaching

 Their continual good humor and fairness

 Their interest in the welfare of each of the students

 Their determination to develop the best in those with whom they come in contact

 Their inspiration to us all as students of E.C.H.S. to be good losers as well as good winners — to carry good sportsmanship into the game
of life

 We, the Senior Class of 1936, wish to dedicate this volume of The Spotlight to

LORIMER MIDGETT

SUPERINTENDENT EDGAR E. BUNDY

FOREWORD

May the spirit of Columbus, with his initiative and determination, with his ever present thirst for knowledge and adventure, continue to inspire us as students and citizens to the discovery of more noble ideals and more magnanimous lives.

In the meantime, may this The Spotlight of 1936 record as faithfully as did that log of the first Columbus, for the present and future, the spirit and progress of the Columbus of today.

COLUMBUS — The Navigator

At the age of 14 he became a sailor on the Mediterranean and followed this life for 25 years, making trips to England and Iceland.

COLUMBUS

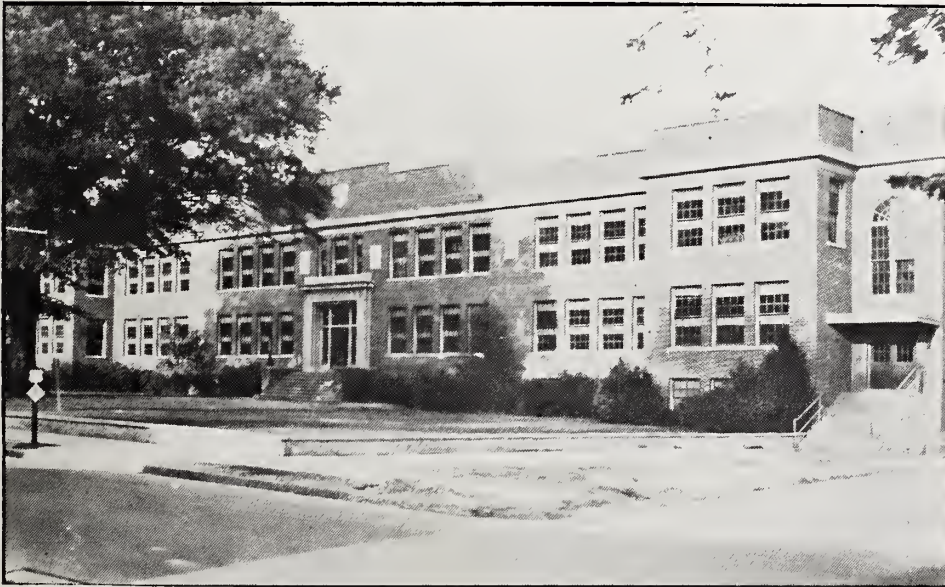

The Visionary

After many failures he enlisted the aid of Queen Isabella of Spain, who pledged her jewels for his voyage westward to the Indies.

SCHOOL

. . . THE FIRST VOYAGE . . . 1492 . . . After two months of severe trials and hardships they landed on a small island in Bahamas, which Columbus named San Salvador. Both Cuba and Haiti were discovered.

CLASS POEM

Eleven years have come and gone,
And as we look back to recall
The happy hours we have spent
Within these well known walls,
We can see ourselves as we started out,
Like Columbus on his voyage,
Little knowing what was ahead,
As we sailed in life's ship, Courage.
The teachers were captains who encouraged us on
Over rough and stormy seas
To a port of honor, the Senior Class;

And here the winds of knowledge filled
our portly sails
And carried us through examinations,
The last of high school gales.
Now that our voyage is ended
And our high school days are through—
May the spirit of the class of "36"
ever remain with you.
And when again we hoist our sails
May we sail on and on
To bring back fame and honor to
The school we've loved so long.

ELSIE SEYMOUR

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE SENIOR CLASS

1936

We, the Senior Class of 1936, do deem it wise to unbend from our Senior dignity long enough to make our last will and testament before we put the frivolous and playful days of school behind us and begin making our way in the hard, cruel world.

ARTICLE I. To the Class of '37, who are still wet behind the ears, we leave our beloved torture rooms, jail cells and what-have-you, numbers 1 and 2. Also we leave to the Juniors our ability to chew gum without being caught! Oh Yeah! Total for Senior Class 634 detentions!

ARTICLE II. Robert Lamb wishes to leave his brains to Buford Mason.

ARTICLE II. Emmett Sawyer requests that his neat, pipe stem ears be left to Edla Walker.

ARTICLE IV. C. P. Harris leaves his tall, blond handsomeness to Edward Griffin.

ARTICLE V. Billy Love leaves his ability to get in everybody's hair to S. Ganderson.

ARTICLE VI. Anne Slaughter leaves her ability to talk so much and say so little to Barbara Hite.

ARTICLE VII. Peter Haste leaves his "pull" with Miss Gordon to Jeff Ingram.

ARTICLE VII. Elmer "Eavesdropper" Brothers bestows his genius in making "Amo Tahiti" run on Boots Ziegler.

ARTICLE IX. Jack Gard leaves his cave-manness and masculinity to Jack Jordan.

ARTICLE X. Margaret Sawyer leaves her tall stateliness to Eloise Long.

ARTICLE XI. "Dot" Brock leaves her "pull" with Mr. Johnson to Martha Ann Scott.

ARTICLE XII. Kitty Love leaves her "lips" to Gaither Aydlett.

ARTICLE XII. Margaret Jackson leaves her loud but sweet mouth to Elizabeth Spence.

ARTICLE XIV. Norman Hopkins and Charlie Ward leave their sympathy to the Editor and Business Manager of the 1937 Spotlight.

ARTICLE XV. Last, but not least, the whole Class of '36 extends its heart-felt sympathy to all of you left in prison while we are loafing around.

WHEREWITH, having willed away everything willable except our dignity, we, the Class of '36, do affix our "John Henry" on this document on this day, May 1, 1936.

RANDOLPH PROVO, TESTATOR.

PROPHECY

Eureka! Success at last! My epochal and startling invention, which must inevitably have an effect upon the entire race of humanity, greater even than the discovery of electric or steam power, the wireless or radio waves, is ready to present to the public, and you, lucky persons that you are, will be the first witnesses to the magnificent demonstration. I call it a "time eliminator." It causes months to pass as seconds, years as minutes, and centuries as hours. Simply by turning a dial you may tune in on the future at any year, day, or place, with a perfect recording both by image and sound of the event or happening taking place at that specific spot or time. The stage is set. The time has come, so if you are ready, let's go! Stop up your ears, and close your eyes—pop—pop—pop—crash—Bam—Boom—, quiet now, I think I have something. Yes-sir-ee, the thing's actually working. It's tuned in on the year 1940. I'll dial Elizabeth City, and try to find some old friends. Kenyon Wilson, home for the summer vacation, after graduating from the University. He is planning to take a law course next year. Johnnie Forehand has just finished four years in agriculture at State. He'll probably be taking over the farm next year. Palmer Ward was selected as State's first representative on the All-American football team, after playing his last college game this fall. By the way, another football star is John Thomas Forbes, Captain and star end for Wake Forest, who graduates this spring, Elizabeth Jones and Gladys Armstrong are opening their own beauty shop this week. Both of them attended a beauty culture school for two years and have since been working in a local shop. Emmett Sawyer, Herman Freeman, and Edward O'Neal received their diplomas from a large business school last week. Virginia Cartwright and Sybil West have taken over the management and operation of West's Baby Shop. James Emery has finished a special course in engineering at Columbia University. By the way, let's tune in there. Might as well turn the dial up to 1946 while we are at it. Well if it isn't Birdie Pritchard, of all people. She is the private stenographer for Mr. Robert Pugh, now a successful business man. He and his partner Theotis Lowry are making good in a big way. Dr. William Love, one of the outstanding brain specialists in the country, successfully operated on that famous torch singer, Miss Elizabeth Lister, last week. Helen Askew, Virginia Cartwright, and Alverda Bray are nurses in a New York hospital.

Baseball seems to have claimed its share of E.C.H.S. graduates from the class of '36. Cader Harris is the star first baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals. Peter Haste has already won 18 games on the mound for the Yankees this year, and is their main hope to win the series. Nathan Caddy, catching for Peter, is leading the league in batting.

Mrs. Cader Harris, the former Helen Parker, was selected several years ago as Miss America. Gladys Sherlock is the Governor's new secretary.

Norman Hopkins is the head of an important publishing house. David Stick is a reporter for the New York Times. Mr. Robert Elliott, Bobby to his former class mates, is featured tonight at the Metropolitan Opera House. Weymouth Tillett is America's outstanding radio singer. He draws something like three thousand dollars a night, when he's on the air. Billie Hooper has turned Hollywood. He is a favorite comedian these days. Charlie Chaplin, after six years absence from filmdom, has started a new picture. This time he has chosen as his partner another newcomer to the screen, Miss Violet Cohoon, who is expected to upset the world famous Chaplin jinx. Bill Jones is also in the movies. He played the part of the young bachelor in "The Widow Marries."

Down in New Orleans, the Misses Elsie Seymour and Maude Sawyer have opened a girls' school. They cater only to the socially elite, and apparently are going to have a good season. Back in North Carolina, Edna Griffin has opened a large florist shop in Winston-Salem. Her partner in the new enterprise is Eula Dozier. Margaret Jackson has married her boyhood sweetheart and is living in Asheville. Virginia Hollowell is also in Asheville. She is the principal of the high school there. Down in Elizabeth City, Bill Miller is managing the Elizabeth City Country Club, now a going proposition. Mack Morrisette has taken over his father's store. Charles Ward is in partnership with his father, and they now have brickyards in most of the eastern Carolina cities. Charlie married the former Miss Dorothy Brock. Marshall White and Clarence Lewis own a partnership in the best printing establishment in town.

Bill Parker is managing a local theatre. Charles Glover is the biggest hide, fur and egg man in the State. Mary Louise Hughes is one of the country's outstanding women novelists. Her latest is "She Loves Me Not." Helen Cooper is designing dresses. That good looking evening gown your cousin had on the other night is one of her designs. Another graduate of that same class is an outstanding designer, only her specialty is young girls' clothes. She is Mrs. Clifton Sawyer, the wife of the well-known New York broker, but you would probably recognize her better as Dot Midgette. There has been a lot in the papers lately about the Johnson kidnapping case, but did you know that Lamb, you remember Robert, is the counsel for the defense? John Wells is a landscape engineer, and they say he knows his stuff, too. Noah Morrisette is touring the country with the world's largest circuses. His performances are better, and reports say his salary is larger than that of anyone else in the business. You can guess what he is. Willie Liverman and Camilla Bell are running one of the country's finest beauty culture schools. Working on their staff are several graduates of the old class of '36 including: Lula Jackson, Virginia Morris, Genevieve Boyce and Oma Pearl Midgett. Ann Slaughter is the head of a large orphanage, in the western part of this State. Dorothy E. Williams is one of her able assistants. Sidney White owns and operates a large grocery store in Troy, New York. Kathleen Jackson is a newspaper cartoonist. She is good too, no foolin'. Jack Gard is Captain of the F. D. Roosevelt, the largest ocean liner afloat. You would expect some of the members of such a happy crowd as our old graduating class to sprout wings and fly away. One of them has. Well, anyway, Billy Alexander is a pilot for a large commercial airway company and Atta Lee Richardson is a hostess. Madeline Jackson is head waitress at that famous Broadway nightspot, ("La Cafe De Parie"). Incidentally, Elmer Brothers is the Master of Ceremonies there. William Gard is Manager of the New York agency of the Packard motor car. Junnie Garrett owns a whole chain of large hotels. Miriam Gregson is his private secretary. Kathryn Love is in politics. She was appointed last term on the President's cabinet. Her official position is Secretary of the Interior. Sarah Williams is another government employee. She is at the head of the department that is investigating what is called "Dead and Buried," past activities of former administrations. At present they are dealing with the old P.W.A. Virgie Hughes has married a successful business man. She always seemed the perfect wife type. Margaret Spruill conducts piano recitals each Sunday at four thirty; there is one classmate we should feel justly proud of. Ruth Reid, Bertha Lane, Eva West, and Edna Crawley are successful advertising models. The four of them are ranked with the best in the game. Idell White is teaching art at Minceton University. Dorothy Williams is also associated with the art department there. Allie Mae White is at the head of a girls' school. Norman Dowdy owns a lumber mill in Maine. Clara Hale and Nellie Jones yesterday completed a non-stop glider flight from New York to San Francisco—a new world's record. Lorene Miller and Margaret Sawyer are "big shots" in the commercial art trade. Pearl Riggs and Alice White are buyers for Macy's department store in New York.

As Randolph Provo, that very successful radio announcer, would probably say—"That's all, Folks."

Debaters In Chapel Hill This-evening

Last Night's Results

News had been received when this paper went to press, that both the negative and affirmative debating teams of E. C. H. S. had won in the first elimination series held Thursday night at Chapel Hill. It was not known at the time who the opponents were, but only the fact that E. C. H. S. was victorious.

If the debaters win in the finals Friday night, the school will be presented the Aycock Memorial Cup for one year.

As a debate team's task for April, the debaters will be to defend the affirmative and the negative.

Assistant Editor

Mr. C. B. Morrisette, Sr., C. B. and Thomas. The debaters were planning to be in Chapel Hill by 11:30 at the latest. The board has allotted the sum to take care of the expenses of the trip.

At two o'clock Thursday noon two hundred and fifty debaters from all over the state met at Memorial Hall and were to see who they would have in the interval between seven and seven-thirty o'clock of debaters rested. By seven when the first debates were they expected to have plenty of enthusiasm. Winning that they debate again the next day from 8:30 in the morning to o'clock that night. Then a memorable night that the Memorial Cup is to be awarded to the winning team.

If you will go to the Monday morning you will see the lovely cup won by the debaters of E. C. H. S. This is a prize and we do not hope, but that it will come true.

INVITATIONS BIDS ACCEPTED SOON

The busy season for Seniors has just begun, it seems. The Graving Company of Texas, sent a representative through Bright Jewelry to show the invitation forms and invitations being used by other high schools and colleges. The forms, composed of Eva Billy Alexander from the senior room, a Cohen and Cader Harris.

Miss Gordon's room met for a room two. They decided on two of the forms, which are to be submitted to the class along with some others which are to be inspected. An especially interesting feature is that the invitations can be had in white, red, black or blue leather with thongs in contrasting colors. These will naturally last much longer than the paper ones, and are good souvenirs of graduation night—that memorable occasion. They are also very attractive. The contrasting thongs, which bind the leaves together, can only be had if over the winners from vocal events.

Jackets Down Scotland Neck In Ten Inning Thriller 3-1

Winners In Music Contest Go To Greensboro

To bring more honor to those who won in the district music contest in the school are going to Greensboro, N. C., next week to the state music contest is to be held on Thursday, and Friday. There are thirteen contestants going from Elizabeth City. Cars have been provided so far and it is hoped another can be secured. The board has allotted forty dollars for the trip. Ten dollars will be used as registration fees. Miss Minnie Nash has not secured a program of the events yet, so it is not known what day E. C. H. S.'s contestants will have to leave. The events in which our school will enter are girl's trio, mixed quartet, brass quartet, male quartet, bass solo, and violin solo.

Those who win in the state contest will have a chance to play in the grand concert to be held Saturday night in Greensboro. All winners from vocal events

McHarney Goes Route Allowing Only Five Hits

It took the Yellow Jackets ten innings to overcome Scotland Neck in an important conference game played there yesterday afternoon (and night). One car broke down, and as luck would have it, Pete Haste, the pitcher Coach Hunsacker had already picked to start, was among its occupants. James McHarney, who took over the harrowing duties for the first time in his high school career last Tuesday, against Williamston, and pitched a one hit game, started, not from choice, but from necessity. He hit ten batters, selected Neck who led the hitting. Ward led the hitting three out of five trips to the plate and he was closely followed by Caddy, and Seymour, collecting two, and Crank.

Business Manager

Ward led the hitting three out of five trips to the plate and he was closely followed by Caddy, and Seymour, collecting two, and Crank.

On The Spotlight Dressing Rapidly

The 1936 edition of the SPOTLIGHT is nearing completion. The pages have been taken and the "body" of the annual is ready, now it is ready to be printed and bound. The staff has worked hard to put out an annual. It will be bound in a cover and will carry the motif throughout. The staff will be concerned with the paper Columbus' voyages to America. The first pages will be in Columbus' early life and different sections the illustrations will be about his four voyages to America. All the illustrations on the inside will be in black and white, but the color cover has not been decided.
